DESCRIPTION

Set of four Golia stools designed by Maurizio Peregalli and produced by Zeus Noto in the early 1990s. The grey lacquered metal base stands on four tapered legs that give the stool a balanced and streamlined profile. A circular footrest reinforces the structure and completes the design.

The round seat upholstered in black leather offers both comfort and a strong visual presence, reflecting Peregalli's refined industrial vocabulary.

Each stool retains its original manufacturer label under the seat.

Zeus Noto, circa 1993.
