DESCRIPTION

Circular coffee table designed by Arne Jacobsen and produced by Fritz Hansen, circa 1970.

The round white laminate top with a softly beveled edge rests on a central four-star cast aluminium base. This "star base" is characteristic of Arne Jacobsen's work, notably developed for his table and seating series in the 1960s. The piece presents a light and balanced silhouette, combining stability with the clear formal language of Danish modernism.
